

Contest 10: Getting Around

Points will be awarded on a daily basis for mileage credits earned according to the graph below and the associated table of points. The team that accumulates the most mileage credits on each day of the Contest Week establishes the maximum mileage credits and receives all available points for that day. The other teams receive a percentage of the daily available points; the points they receive are determined by, and equal to, the percentage that they have earned of the daily maximum mileage credits. For example, if team A accumulates 50 mileage credits on day 1 and team B accumulates 40 mileage credits on day 1, team A would earn 20 points and team B would earn 16 points for day 1. Each team can select its own driving route(s).

Note: Circumstances necessitating a deviation from the expected Monday-Friday schedule will result in a redistribution of available points.
